Driverite supply Compressor Service Kits for Range Rover air suspension. Eventually compressors wear out. When they do, it is not always necessary to replace the complete assembly. Usually the piston has worn to such an extent that no matter how fast the compressor turns-over it will not produce the air you need. This replacement part allows you to replace the worn piston and sleeve giving you a reconditioned unit for many years of further use. Service part Number No: DRK002 Suits DR1000 Compressor (ANR4353)
